Turning to the objection that Great Britain has six votes in the league assembly, Mr. Wilson said it so happened that "our one vote is just as powerful as their six." There was no case in which the assembly could vote on any important subject except admission of new meanbers without a decision first having been made by the council in which there was an equality of votes.

Denouncing "hyphenated Americans," the President repeated his charge that a pro-German propaganda again was spreading in the United States. He said opponents of the treaty were desiring the same ends Germany was desiring but asserted his confidence that the treaty would be accepted.

America is under an overwhelming moral compulsion to accept the peace treaty, the President declared, because it was drawn up on American specifications and marked the world's acceptance of America's principles. Even Germany had been forced to accept these principles. said the President, and now some men are proposing that the United States herself repudiate them.

But where gentlemen propose to cure it by striking that clause out of the treaty, or by ourselves witholding our adherence to the treaty, they propose an irrational thing.

"Let me remind you of some of the history of this business. It was in 1898 that China ceded these rights and concessions to Germany. The pretext was that some German missionaries had been killed. My heart aches, I must say, when I think how we have made an expectation. I think how we have made an excuse of religion sometimes to work a deep wrong. The central government of China sometimes had done all it could to protect those German missionaries. Their death was due to local disturbances, to local passions, to local antipathy against government that the matter be reconsidered. Now when you have

One of the highest-minded men of our history was President at that time—I mean Mr. McKinley. One of the ablest men we ever had as Secretary of State, Mr. John Hay, occupied that great office. And in the message of Mr. McKinley, about this transaction he says that inasmuch as the powers that had taken these territories had agreed to keep the doors open for our commerce, there was no reason why we should object. Just so we could trade with these stolen territories, we were willing to let them be stolen.

Soldiers from Calexico arrived and a vigorous search was instituted but to no avail. Nothing was taken from the store, the bandits leaving everything in their haste to get away. The bandit Peralta, who has been active at Jacumba, is a deserter twice from the Mexican Army. It is doubtful if the bandits will be brought to justice, owing to Gov. the State Board of Pharmacy and Police Detective McCarron early yesterday morning arrested Jung Kem, 38 years of age, a Chinaman and Mrs. Norma Shuw. 24 years ohl a white woman, at 313½ Evergreen avenue. The officers discovered a complete opium smoking outfit and a quantity of narcotics in the house, it is said. The Chinaman and the woman are both held in the City Jail charged with violating the State polson laws.

According to the arresting officers the house on Evergreen avenue has been used as a headquarters for drug peddlers and opium smokers. The place was in charge of Mrs. Shaw, the officers claim, and Kem is alleged to have been the chief peddler operating from the house. Although the two prisoners yesterday refused to make any statements, the police believe a number of other arrests will be made in connection with the drug raid within the next twenty-four hours.

This is a hard task. I realize just what the public will easy if we fail to stop the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. We will be blamed.

"As was done in the case of the income tax, an appeal to the public for co-operation will be made and I believe the results will be satisfactory.

"If the money appropriated by Congress is not sufficient to enforce the law more will be requested. In no community will violations of the law be winked at.

"My first step will be to submit a lot of questions for information. I am going to the public for facts and diligent support.

TO BUILD ORGANIZATION.

"I am going to ask for the aid of the entire official forces of the United States, State, county, municipal and local governments. The public generally will be expected to support the entire pogramme. The enforcement of the law in this will not depend on the number of officers on the job, but on the vigliance and faithfulness of the law abiding public."

Mr. Roper has a small unit about which he will build an organization to enforce the law. He will need a large sum of money to do it well. When the war-time act went into effect he had approximately 800 storekeepers and gaugers in actual services In addition he had about 156 raiders. He thinks the raiders can be used as a nucleus for a new force.

In this report, made after Justice Louis D. Brandels and Felix Frank-furter had given the committee an account of their observations in Paris and Palestine, it was stated that, since the political situation concerning a Jewish Palestine is satisfactory, the time for practical action is here.

This action, it was suggested, should first take the form of a campaign against maiaria, in order to sanitate the land in advance of any extensive immigration. Moreover, the report said, land should be purchased on a large scale and forestation and irrigation started. Strong financial support to the university also was urged.

Motor Car Safety Depends on Right Engineering

A study of the causes of motor car mishaps will show that in nine cases out of ten they are as much the fault of the car as of the driver. When it comes to the safety of a man and his family, Packard Engineering never compromises with chance.

VEN if every one of the 6,000,000 motor car drivers in this country were always care I ful and thoughtful - there would still be accidents.

The greatest possible care will not help a man

Safety is the first and foremost consideration in Packard engineering. There is a sound, practical engineering reason for every factor of safety in the Packard car.

Consider the security afforded by the high res power of the Packard Twin - Six - the stored - up energy which responds instantly in an emergency, but costs nothing when it is not in use.

The Packard is the safest car in the world to handle in traffic. From less than two miles an hour on high, it will pick up in a few blocks to more than a mile a minute. It's perfect balance-its ease of control-makes it stop or start without

Just as the Packard engine is built to deliver more power than ordinary needs call for, the Packard car is built to withstand more than ordinary strain. Yet the Packard requires no more power to run than many cars which compromise with strength to secure lightness.

Its weight is scientifically adjusted to its power. It stays on the road when lighter cars show a tendency to leave it.

To the man who has any regard at all for himself or his family, Packard safety is priceless.

The Packard people are transportation experts they have more to tell you on this subject than any other organization in the world. You can al them to discuss your car problem without obligation. It is to your interest and profit to do to

Letter on Position.

Plan is Cabled to Washington Union Leaders Defer Final Action Until Today. for Wilson's Approval.

Contemplates Separate State, Say Only Gary's Yielding Can Avert Walkout.

Boundary Line Drawn Ac- Corporation Chairman Issues stable to Both States.

ABHINGTON, Sept. 17.-A set ement of the Fiume controversy, and Steel Workers adjourned it presenting a compromise between meeting here late today until tomor ally and Jugo-Slavia. has been row morning without making school by the powers at the Paris statement relative to the propose nation-wide steel strike, called for Peace Conference.

The compromise plan has been cabled to Washington for submission to President Wilson, who stirred up the row in the first place by refusing to consent to the annexation of Flume to Italy.

Under the terms of the settlement submitted to the President Flume will be a separate state, the harbon to be a free port.

The kingdom of the Serbs. Crosse and Slovenes will receive the entire Dalmatian mainland except the city of Zara, which is to be a free port.

The Jugo-Blavs will also obtain most of the Dalmatian islands. Italy is to receive a mandate over Albania, excepting the extreme southern part, called Upper Epirus, which will be assigned to Greece, valous (Aviona) together with the surrounding region, will come under Italian sovereignty.

BOUNDARY IS REDRAWN.

Valons (Avlona) together with the surrounding region, will come under Italian sovereignty.

BOUNDARY IS REDRAWN.
The boundary line between Italy and the kingdom of the Serba Croats and Slovenes has been redrawn, both nations having made concessions.
Under the settlement Italy relinquishes considerable territory on the eastern shore of the Adriatic which was assigned to her under the treaty of London but that pact was substantially carried out in the provisons respecting Albania. Fiume under that treaty was assigned to Croatia, which at the time of the drafting of the agreement was enemy territory, the project for the union of Croatia with Serbia having not been formulated until a considerable time after Italy had entered the war.

WAY FOR ULTIMATE UNION.
The compromise settlement is believed to provide a way for the ultime of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

WAY FOR ULTIMATE UNION.

The compromise settlement is believed to provide a way for the ultimate union of Finme with Italy, which President Wilson was able to prevent during the peace negotiations, and admits the Italianity of the Istrian city while at the same time it makes provision for the use of the port of Fiume by the Croat hinterland.

The selection of Italy as the mandatory for Albania is a recognition of the civilizing work accomplished in that country by Italy during the war. Italy has introduced intervals of the country by Italy during the war. Italy has introduced intervals of the civilizing work accomplished in that country by Italy during the war. Italy has introduced intervals of the United States Steel corporation, declined today to comment on the announcement of John Fitzpatrick that only a last-minute telegram from him would arent a strike of steel and iron workers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, declined today to comment on the announcement of John Fitzpatrick that only a last-minute telegram from him would avert a strike of steel and iron workers. It was learned, however, that Mr. Gary has written a letter to the heads of the steel corporation's subsidiaries in connection with the threatened strike and it was intimated, this might be made public late targy or tomorrow. BLOCKADE MUTINEERS.

The Italian government, according to official intelligence received here, has put into execution a land and sea blockade against Capt. (Rbriel d'Annunzio, the famous Italian soldier-poet, and his mutinous Italian military force which has taken command of the situation at Fiume. The government expects by these means to starve the city and the protestant Italian troops into submission to the decision of the powers against the union of Fiume with Italy.

The use of troops against the d'Annunzio force is not contemplated by the Italian government, although d'Annunzio himself and the fanatical Italian soldiers who are following him in a crusading spirit will be dealt with under martial law after their movement fails and they are brought within Italian miliant intelligation.

Military officials were exerting every resource today to ascertain the fate of twenty or more soldiers who were washed out into the bay while the storm was at its height and of whom there has been found no trace. The men, members of Co. I. Thirty-seventh Infantry, and other regiments on border duty, were at the government rest camp here for a week-end furlough when the camp was washed away.

Capt. B. M. Egeland of Webster, S. D., camp commander, was drowned during the storm, and his wife also is believed to have lost her life.

or operations at our miles and factories.

"I deem it proper to repeat in a letter what heretofore, has been said to you verbally. I entertain no feeling of animosity towards the gentlemen personally and would not hesitate to meet them as individuals, but I did not and do not consider it proper to confer with them under the circumstances.

"The declination was made for two reasons: First, because I did not believe the gentlemen were authorized to speak for large numbers of our employees, whose interests and wishes are of prime importance. Secondly, because a conference with these men would have been treated by them as a recognition of the 'closed shop' method of employ-ment. We do not combat labor unions as such. We do not neco-tiate with labor unions, because it would indicate the closing of our shops against non-union labor; and large numbers of our workmen are not members of unions and do not care to be.

According to reports regarding the Flume situation printed in today's newspapers, some of the Italian insurgents who took part in the D'Annunzio movement have signified a willingness to obey the orders of General Badoglio for their immediate return to their garrisons.

Another report from Flume declares that the D'Annunzio partisans have made arrangements looking to the destruction of the city in case resistance becomes futile.

six as six persons. So far as I can see it makes me a bigger man.

"The point to remember is, that the energy of the League of Nations is a perfect equality of votes. That settles that matter.

"It is because of the nature of those objections, their filmsiness, the impossibility of supporting them with conclusive argument, that I am profoundly puzzled to know what has become of the opposition to the League of Nations. I know one of the results and that is to raise the hope in the minds of the German people that, after all, they can separate us from those who were our associates in the war. I know that pro-German propaganda, which had heretofore never dared raise its head and is active all over the United States. These are disturbing and illuminating circumstances.

"Pay understand me. I am not accusing some of the honorable men whose objections I am trying to accusing some of the honorable men whose objections I am trying to accusing some of the honorable men whose objections I am trying to dearway, with trying to draw near to Germany. That is not my point. But I am saying that what they are attempting to do is exactly what Germany desires, and that it would couch first the position which our enemies desire and our friends deplore.

"But I am arguing the matter of the position which our enemies desire and our friends deplore.

"But I am arguing the matter of the position which our enemies desire and our friends deplore.

"But I am arguing the matter only because I am a very patient only because I take the position which our enemies desire and our friends deplore.

"But I am arguing the matter only because I am a very patien; will. 1232 man. I haven't the slightest doubt as to what the result is going to bo. I have felt the temper and high purposes of this great people as I have crossed this wonderful land of ours."

ydia E. Pinkham's egetable Compound

Warning Why will women continue to drag around in nisery, suffering with the ailments peculiar to their ex, that drag them down to misery and despair, with backache, nervousness, the blues, derangements and irregularities, when there is a proved remedy for just such conditions?

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming these ailments until it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

For Twenty Years the Friend

old and going through the Change of Life, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing me lots of good. I felt run-down and weak but since taking the Vegetable Compound I am much stronger and better. I can eat and sleep, am gaining flesh and can do more work than I have for some time. Twenty years ago your Vegetable Compound helped me during childbirth. I wish you would print this in your paper so that other women may read it. There is nothing better for the relief of suffering womanhood than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It does away with sickness and nervousness

"The reason that we women so often go bankupt spiritually and get to the down-and-outers who are lways panhandling our friends for sympathy or whining out hard-luck stories is because we always enter everything on the debit side and never any account on the credit side, and so we don't see that in the end life balances itself with tears and smiles, with joy and sorrow, and the things even up pretty well, after all, with all of us. "I used to belong to the melancholy sisterhood and I was always lamenting because I wasn't as rich as one of my friends and didn't have as good a time as another friend, and had had a lot of domestic sorrow, and I had to earn my own living, and so on. "I once knew a woman who had had the misfortune to marry, when she was very young, a man who turned out to be a brute and a bully. He dragged her through years and years of marriage that was a literal hell on earth to her. During the dark days of sorrow which followed Joseph's being sold into slavery, and when in early manhood he was wickedly and falsely accused of a crime he did not commit, and cast into the dungeon where he remained apparently forgotion, he was still true to his God who was ever watching over and comforting him. When King Pharabo hecams worled and despondent because of his bad dreams, which he feared were ominous of evil, and none of his wise men could interpret dreams. In he could interpret dreams he he could interpret dreams. He heard of Joseph the Hebrew slave down in the dungeon who gave him the wisdom to interpret the king he was still true to his God and took no honor to himself but humbly said—"it is not in me, God shall give Pharoah his answer."

After hearing the strange dreams who can say that it was not God who gave him the wisdom to interpret them correctly and the courage to advise the king to store up food during the years of plenty to keep the people alive during the awful famine which was to follow. (Think of it, a poor slave right out of prison giving advice to his royal highness the great king.)

But he showed so much wisdom in his advice that "it pleased the king who said to his servants, can there be jound such an one as this a man it when the spirit of God is?" And he thought, now Joseph was not running for office, Joseph was not r

Imitations Are Dangerous.

AN OHIO druggist writes to "The Practical Druggist," a prominent New York Drug Journal, as follows: "Please furnish formula for Castoria. All the formulas I have worked with are either ineffective or disagreeable to administer."

To this "The Practical Druggist" replies: "We do not supply formulas for proprietary articles. We couldn't if we wanted to. Your experience with imitative formulas is not surprising, but just what is to be expected. When Castoria is wanted, why not supply the genuine? If you make a substitute, it is not fair or right to label it Castoria. We can give you all sorts of laxative preparations for children, but not Castoria, and we think a mother who asks for Castoria would not feel kindly toward you if you gave her your own product under such a name."

No mother with a spark of affection for her child will overlook the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when buying Castoria.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

The Secret of Charm is the Root of all Wisdom; and in Winning a Man, a Grain of Diplomacy Exceedeth a Thousand Coquetries.

(Being the Confessions of the Seven Hundredth Wife.)

BY HELEN ROWLAND. [Copyright, 1919, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.]

[Copyright, 1919, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.]

MY DAUGHTER, beauty is vain and poses are deceitful, but the secret of charm is the root of all wisdom. And, in the winning of hearts, a grain of diplomacy exceedeth a thousand coquetries. Lo, of men there be seventy-times-seven varieties, but their hearts are all built upon the same model, even as letter boxes, all built upon the same model, even as letter boxes, and she that discovereth the pass key shall enter wheresoever she listeth.

Go to! The race is not to the beautiful, nor the prize to the brilliant. Therefore, seek not to dazzle a man, but disarm him with innocence, amuse him with nonsense, flatter him with incense—and, above all, treat him with common sense! nonsense, flatter him with incense — and, above all, treat him with common sense! — and, above all, mendation, as was also a petition and the standard of the sandard of th not cloying.

Be tender—but not fervent. Be cordial—but not

If he be callow treat him with grave respect; if he be old rejoice him with frivolity; if he be wise cajole him with baby talk; if he be simple extol his brilliancy and flatter his judgments. For, in his weak points, even as in the heel of Achilles, lieth all his vulnerability—and vanity. Verily, verily, beauty may be bought at the druggist's and knowledge may be acquired from books, but understanding is rarer among women than radium, and diplomacy is more effective than a love potion.

And she that possesseth these, though she be plainer than a Monday dinner, shall be a winner of hearts and a drawer of glances.

And women shall marvel among themselves, saying: "What do men see in her?"

The blds just opened by the Board of Public Works show higher lumber prices are not coming down for a long time to come is apparently the belief of the Board of Public Works, and it does not propose to hold up public work urgently needed, on this account An instance of this came to notice vesterday.

Be tender—but not fervent. Be cordial—but not gushing.

For more love hath been strangled to death with indifference. Lo, there be six things which every man abominateth; yea, seven which are a sore affliction unto him.

A damsel that chattereth continuously and a frayed collar that scratcheth the neck; a woman that beateth him at repartee and a collar button that penetrateth the flesh; satin slippers that are run down at the heels, and a feminine temperamentalist!

Yea, and a damsel that delugeth him with sentiment and emotions: Few thy tears but abundant thy smiles. Let them fall alike upon the eligible and the ineligible, for thou knowest not where they shall take root. And a smiling woman walketh through life upon hearts and roses.

As the pounding of a flat wheel upon the ears so is the voice of a woman that saith continually, "Kiss me! Dost thou love me? Dost thou love me as much as ever?"

As a pickle to the teeth so is a cynical damsel; as grape fruit that spurteth in the eye so is one that is witty at his expense.

As a small boy dreadeth soap in the eyes, as a cat hateth a shower bath, so doth a man dread a scene and flee from hysterics.

The forward maiden telleth the piquant joke and burbleth slang with a blase air. She is so sophisticated! But a modest demeanor is more fascinating than a scarlet sport hat.

Soft thy tongue and slow to speech, but eloquent thine eyes and constantly busy. For it is through his eyes and not through his ears that he shall be brought low.

If he be callow treat him with grave respect: if he be old rejoice him with frivoility; if he be wise cajole him with baby talk; if he be simple extol his brilliancy and flatter his judgments. For, in his weak points, for the country and son south a service of a next provide and the profession as a nurse than she did in housework, Ralph S. OHNSONISM VS. AMERICANISM.

In his public addresses on the peace treaty and the League of Nations Senator Hiram Johnson sets himself up as the sole example of 100 per cent. Americanism. He is the standard by which the Americanism of the rest of us must be graded. The merit of Americanism is to be determined by its relation to the opinions of Johnson. Its substance must vary as those opinions change. We are to have a sliding scale, recalling the old English custom of making heclength of the yardstick conform to that of the king's arm-or, if His Majesty so decreed, to the girth of the king's waist. His followers call it Johnson-Americanism.

As Senator Johnson has frequently quoted approvingly Emerson's bantering epigram that "consistency is the vice of fools," Johnson-Americanism is not immutable, that it is subject to change without notice; it is a political creed based on the policy of charging "all that the traffic will

But The Times must protest that true Americanism is greater than any man or party of men. Its principles are as fixed as the economy of the universe. It is a spirit that was born before the word "Cali-fornia" was coined to designate a geoson was known to the United States Senate. Americanism was defined by The Times before Senator Johnson attempted to appropriate the term and use it as a po itical asset. We then called it "God's lib-erty out in the open with both hands ex-tended to help humanity." But it is appar-ent that such a definition must be decapitated and dismembered before it can be made to conform to the short and petty Johnson standard,

Real Americanism, the Americanism of Lincoln, Garfield, Roosevelt, Taft and Root, is typified by the American eagle; while the Johnson-Americanism is more fittingly typified by the crab. The one moves for ward and upward, the other moves backward, zigzags at curious angles and spends most of its life hiding under a rock. If the policies of this country were to be tiers would be bristling with forts, our camp and an embargo would be placed on every American vessel. It is an Americanism that would have been too narrow for the young republic 140 years ago. To apply it in the age of the sumbarine, the wireless and air navigation would be tantamount to

Senator Johnson has no personal knowledge that a world exists on the other side of the Atlantic; and his views are as insular as his experience. He possesses a suspicious nature that doubts all that his own eyes have not seen and his own ears heard; and he has some highlyfantastic views about the countries and peoples he has never seen. In his Sioux Falls address he said:

There is just one going, solvent national concern on earth—one going solvent national concern. That is your country and mine. And thus it is proposed in the League of Nations that this country, the one going, solvent national concern, shall enter into partner-ship with four bankrupts.

Such ignorance of world finance, whether actual or assumed, is unpardonable in this age of enlightenment. The Japanese yen commands a higher premium in the world's markets than the American dollar. British war securities are selling as nearly at par as American Liberty Bonds. The French government spent fewer billions in the world war than our own; and French paper has a higher rating in Dun and Bradstreet than is generally accorded to that of Senator Johnson. If the Italian government is on the verge of bankruptcy the bankers of the world haven't discovered it.
Italian securities still find a ready market and the opinion generally prevails in the business world that the Italian government fared better financially than any of the other Allies except Japan.

world affairs and misinformation is the lar; Johns ast the breeching. When America tered the world war we recognized that we had come to a point where, so long as slavery existed anywhere in the world, the independence of America was not free from attack. Real Americanism is as broad as the universe itself. Under the covenant of the League of Nations American troops could be sent no farther than they had gone before the league existed; for they had already encircled the world. Real Americanism wears no gyves at the wrist. It strives not for the world's wealth, but for its weal. It is a courageous, redwhere duty calls, though it be to the ends of the earth. Real Americanism doesn't fear death on some foreign shore; it fears nothing but disbonor. The real American mother is of that Spartan breed that bade her son return "with your shield or on it." She never joined in the chorus when the pacifists sang "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier." Real Americanism assures every free people of the earth, however weak, who are attacked by despotism, that they

America fought in Cuba for the freedom of a people who were not our own; and America fought in China when the Boxen threatened anarchy. And that was before the world war began. Since that time American troops have followed the call of duty ever many foreign trails. They would do so again under similar provocation, despite the protests of Johnson-Americanism.

silk and near-silk. President Wilson has explained that the obligations of Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations are such that this country would be the sole judge of whether it should take part in any foreign war. That explanation is as binding as any reservation which could be placed in the cove the interpretation which the United States would place upon any section of the peace treaty would be that of the President who negotiated it. Real Americanism will not be misled by the false alarm concerning this section raised by the exponents of

THE SQUARE DEAD

With strikes and agitation all abou him and old Hi Price lying in wait to sand-bag him on the way home the average may express grave discontent with his lot, although there be no worthy excuse for the same.

It is highly important that every employer of labor should furnish his associates with as little warrant for grievance as possible. The city must be presented to the world as the contented labor. There are a number of large financial and commercial institutions whose reputations for paying just salaries never sought a union affiliation, but they have been urged to do so and have been strongly tempted. These concerns are do-ing business in millions and their very life depends upon maintaining Los Angeles as a city of fulfilled opportunities and The officers and directors have a compla part in maintaining the general good, but when the workers are interviewed by them selves their grievances become almost alarming. There are men filling "genteel" which the incumbent must be well-dressed salaries are less than $100 a month. Many their own homes or are paying for them. The so-called big interests should of themselves take such action that they may scape the harsh criticism of their own workers. An employee with a just ground plosive shell. The wise and just employer will seriously attempt to get the viewpoint of the employee, Matters like recognition of overtime work, the granting of vacations and working conditions and conveniences may not seem important: but a little may take a doubtful or disgruntled worker and make him over into a loyal and contented employee for a lifetime. As far as possible the workers should have an oprtunity to benefit after the returns the investment are recognized. This may be in the form of bonuses for zeal, efficiency and fidelity, or under a defined plan. The right of the men to confer and bargain with the employers-either indi-vidually or collectively-should be readily recognized, but no walking delegates or outside business agents should be toler-

They should strive to see not how little but how much they can pay to the workers asso employee is a genuine asset and should have a definite value on the books. As such he is entitled to a return on his own investment. The unions cannot furnish such one. With them the union is ahead of the job and the natural loyalty and zeal of the employee must be given to the union rather than to the employer.

The future of the city rests in the reognition of the initiative, the efficiency, the cyalty and the co-operation of the individual employee. Is the employer doing his full part in justifying the development of these qualities? If so, the city will continue as the community of industrial freedom, of equal opportunities, of progress, prosperity and contentment. Isn't it gloriously worth

RIPPLING RHYMES. TAXES.

Uncle Sam's as slick as wax is asks me for my taxes I dig up without a groan; oh, I dig the hard-earned money, put it in a sack of gunny and with smile serene and gunny and with smile serene and sunny carry him the buck and bone. And I'd do it still more gayly if he didn't waste it so; people tell me, hourly, daily, that our uncle burns the dough; he blows in the precious roubles like a drankard blowing bubbles, caring little for the trou-bles that their earning made us know. It is wrong, O Uncle Sammy, all our struggles to forget; for the dollars, cold and clammy, we have earned in toil and sweat; you in the sacred cause of fre you really shouldn't feed 'em to the cows, already yet. We have earned them at the forges, we have earned them pitching hay; we have earned them digging gorges in the hard unyielding clay; we have earned jars us to our gaiters when you throw the scads away. Uncle, let throw the scads away. Uncle, let there be an ending to the carnival of waste; quit this jamboree of spending, quit it all, with seemly haste; save the taxes and the wages, so that on the shining pages of the works of future sages you redemption may be traced.

Without attempt at extraneous decoration, the merchandise of the season has been tastefully disposed in windows and throughout the houses to notify the city that the season has auspiciously begun. No one viewing the array of merchandise can doubt that our merchants have secured their full share from a market which has for many months been difficult to master. Never, it would seem, has Los Angeles had the privilege of selecting from a more inviting feast of gowns, wraps and millinery than is at present spread before her.

If prices are augmented, unavoidably we are told, so also has quality been added unto. Never were there fabrics so delightful to the eye and touch; never modes quite so alluring; never such rhapsodies in fur, such harmonies of soler such as the proposed of color such as the propos

EL CENTRO, Sept. 17.—Efforts of J. C. Allison and F. S. Lack to present a minority report, which it is cleimed criticised the majority on many points, at the official report of the Washington delegation on the All-American canal question, were frustrated today when President J. S. Nackerson of the board of directors of Imperial Irrigation District refused to listen to anything but a report of events that transpired and stated the board would listen to recommendations and criticisms tomorrow.

O. N. Shaw of the delegation presented the report of the committee as it was composed when the return trip was made.

The matter was fully discussed but no definite action was taken.

to third when Ellis rammed a double out to right. It was not Brown's blee out to right. It was not Brown's business to hit, so he popped to Koerner.

San Francisco kicked some dust into the faces of the Angels in the fifth, when two scored. Koenner and Caveney opened by busting singles. Schick bunted to Bates, and the bases became full when Crandall, covering first, muffed the pill. First base is a new position to Karl and he doesn't know how to hold the ball there. This jammed the gears of Curly's control and he forced Koerner across with a pass to Kamm. Red McKee whifted in his usually stylish manner against southpaws. Bromley busted a single, and Caveney came across. Schick taking third. Fitzgerald, who had not been hitting, tried a bunt, and with a swift guy like Schick coming in it, almost succeeded. By extreme hustling. Brown scooped the ball just in time to get it to Boles ahead of Schick. Corhan flied to Crawford.

Fabrique started the large doings in the sixth by drawing a pass, and filed to Hunter. Crawford had scored on one sacrifice fly already, and considered that sufficient for one day. So he preserved his soul in pattence. Crandall clouted a safety, scoring the two, Boles with his trick leg ambling in behind Sam's massive ones, Crandall stole second, and Elis walked. Brown fanned in a becoming manner. Killefer kicked in with a single that scored Crandall, Fabrique, around for second helping, filed to Hunter.

Up to date everything is running along splendidly. No friction. The entire club is pulling strong for the handball fracases. The most important matches of the first round were played yesterday. In the championship class, Clarence Bean was defeated at the expert hands of Dick Retzer, 21-4, 21-13. There is no question that Retzer played all around Bean, the latter not getting a look in. In class B, Max Gold opened up some smart handball artillery against Cliff Rohe, defeating him, 21-12, 21-11.

Paul Willis Scores.

Paul Willis is said to make a distinct hit, 'in Fannie Ward's picture, "The Cry of the Weak," which opens at the Hip today. The role, that of the heroine's young brother, called for much dramatic ability, wherefore tests were made of several young actors before anyone was selected. Finally young Willis was selected by Director George Fitzmaurice, and the director's judgment was vindicated when the picture was shown on the screen. Willis is remembered for his work in "The Fall of a Nation," and other films.

Kathlyn Clifford Engaged,

It looks quite certain now that that charming little China shepherdess person, Kathlyn Clifford, will be Douglas Fairbanks' leading woman in his present picture, which he is making for United Artists.

Miss Clifford is well known to musical comedy and vaudeville, and is considered one of the cleverest in her line. But this is not all. She also has had enough film experience to make her entirely at home before the camera. Ted Reed is assisting Vic Fleming in directing, and it is just possible that Chet Frank-lin will be Fairbanks' director on ha next picture, which picture will be made in New York.

Paul Willis is said to make a distinct hit, in Fannie Ward's picture. The Cry of the Weak," which opens at the Hip today. The role, that of the heroine's young brother, called for much dramatic ability, wherefore tests were made of several young actors before anyone was selected by Director George Fitz-maurice, and the director's judgment was vindicated when the picture was shown on the screen, Willis is remainded for his work in "The Fall of A. Nation" and other films.

Mr. Wells will interview many of the greatest divines and churchmen of America in regard to the plan of its company to picturize the Bible. He is to be director-general of the corporation now in process of organization and it is his purpose to enlist the moral support of the entire church body of America in the Vast project of his configany.

Mr. Wells had intended to devote his entire energies to the organization of his technical force and to assembling materials for the new with the Brentwood Film Company, and who is now one in shape for present programme, includes Lord Dunsany's "Fame and ir and surveyed himself critically, "I'm a dirty-looking object to come of wash!"

studio, but the demand for information regarding his purpose to put the entire Bible into motion pictures has been so urgent that he decided to go East and meet the enquiring churchmen in person.

A tremendous scheme of propaganda touching every church community, every divine and every church publication, school and institution in America, has been inaugurated entirely separate and apart from the usual publicity channels for motion pictures, and Mr. Wells and his associates are finding assurances of co-operation everywhere.

Passing the Time.

The other day at Universal City, a dressing-room maid excitedly rushed up to Harry Carey, star of "The Ace of the Saddle," coming to the Superba next week, and said: "Those cowboys of yours are going to commit murder. I just heard one of them say that he was going to shoot someone named 'Little Joe.' Hurry and get them before they start." Carey listened a moment at the door of his dressing-room. He smiled as heard his followers also threaten to shoot "Phoebe," "Big Dick," "Long Liz," "Box Cars," "Snake Eyes" and "Naturals," providing of course the bones rolled right.

Eddie Foy and the seven little Foys are to begin playing Pantages circuit the first week in October.

Fannie Ward is the film star the Hippodrome in "The Cry of the Weak," the photoplay on the new bill. Appearing in the support-ing cast are Frank Elliot, Walt Whitman and Paul Willis. The vaudeville features two different feminine tries. One of the most interesting pictures to local audiences will show next week in the film version of "Upstairs and Down," the Frederick and Fanny Hatton play, which had its first stage production in Los Angeles. Olive Thomas plays the leading role.

The fame of the Kinema prologue to "The Miracle Man" has gone forth even to Chicago. The manage-ment of the theater in that city has ment of the theater in that city has wired for information as to the manner in which it is presented. San Francisco has been equally anxious for the same information. The effectiveness of the prologue is due to its realistic reproduction of a thunderstorm in which is seen the figure of a lonely white-haired man. Gradually the tempest abates and the sun appears through the clouds. Immediately thereafter the opening of the picture is flashed on the screen.

New Form of Swindle.

Unscrupulous fly-by-night dealers in worthless securities who maintain their offices in their hats are said to have been attempting to influence insurance beneficiaries to invest in their good-for-nothing schemes. Names and addresses are secured from published lists, and in many cases the recipients of a few hundred or a few thousand dollars, inexperienced in the ways of business, may be argued out of their nestegg so laboriously provided by the wage earner who has passed on. This is a peculiarly despicable form of swindle and one that is difficult to deal with. A rule which every novice should keep constantly before him is, don't invest except on expert advice, and then—be careful.

Facts Don't Jell.

Ackerman's Diagnosis.

Carl W. Ackerman, a writer for the business department of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, is making a tour of the United States to report for his paper economic and industrial conditions as he finds them. His diagnosis of Los Angeles is that this city is suffering with cancer. "Outwardly," he says, "the city is contented; inwardly it is restless, dissatisfied, agitated. This discontent is what I term the cancer." Mr. Ackerman may be a clever diagnostician, but he seems to have gotton hold of some old charts and to have based his opinions on them rather than on the actual condition of the patiest. The cancer according to the Penn. charts and to have based his opinions on them rather than on the actual condition of the patiest. The cancer, according to the Pennisylvania observer, whose conclusions must necessarily be formed on the cars between stops, is due to the gulf which he claims exists between capital and labor. If Mr. Ackerman did not display a tendency to lean towards the side of unionized control and had taken the time to dig a little deeper beneath the surface, he might have found that Los Angeles never had a cancer, has no cancer now and is on the high road to convalescnece from a minor operation to remove a foreign growth which more resembled a barnacle than a fungs. Because of Los Angeles policy of industrial freedom it is to become the greatest in the West. It is the policy which turned the scale in favor of this city for the establishment of the Goodyear plant, which is to be but the forerunner of many others. Los Angeles is not "resiless, dissatisfied and agitated," Mr. Ackerman. You may have met a few former street railway employees, or shipyard workers or tallors who are wondering just what really did happen to them and where they are going to find new jobs. There men, a few hundred at most, are "restless, dissatisfied and agitated," but there are more than 600,000 happy, contented, satisfied residents of the best place to work and live in the United States. If these people have a cancer knawing at their vitals they didn't know it before the Philadelphian diagnosed their trouble, and even now that it has been pointed out.

Tt has become popular for financial writers to accuse the public of overbuying luxuries. Because incomes are greater than they ever were before it has been argued that the dollar has lost its perspective and that everyone was buying everything regardless of price or whether

DENVER, Sept. 17.—With the British pound sterling at par in New York, resning 44.89 in American gold money or its equivalent, the market price for silver sant out at $41.135 per ounce vould read $1.291, thus justifying predictions some months ago that aliver "would soon be selling on the basis of sixteen to 1."

The Edge bill, now juenting in the United States Senate, backed by the Treasury Department, is calculated to raise the exchange value of foreign money in this country by providing a broader basis of credit for outsiders who aim to trade here and who are badly hampered by the severe discount on exchange.

The resistance of the pound sterling to its former position in New York would mean a gain of the providence of the pound sterling to the large since of the regarded fair, after the usual 'galley' opinions have been explicted.

The discount for the Edge bill, backed by the large sinces, is close to the large sinces and the sinces and the large sinces and HUNDREDS FIGHT FIRE.
